

Population and Settings

Love Notes is being successfully implemented with diverse types of youth in a wide variety of settings. Here is a partial list of populations and settings where Love Notes is being used.

Populations

- Youth living in under-resourced regions and areas with high rates of teen births and STIs
- Youth who are culturally underrepresented, especially Hispanic, African American, or Native American teenagers
- Youth in, or aging out, of foster care or adjudication systems
- Youth who are victims of trafficking
- Risk-immersed youth
- Expecting and parenting teens (both fathers and mothers)
- GLBTQ youth
- Youth in correctional settings
- Tribal Youth
- Runaway and homeless youth
- Community college students
- Foster youth (both within the system and aging out)
- Abused young people

Settings

- Workforce Development (YouthBuild/Job Corps)
- Group homes (Foster)
- Residential settings (Mental health)
- Detention centers, Challenge academics
- Schools, Alternative schools
- Faith-based settings
- Community agencies
- Community colleges
- In-home visitation
- Domestic violence shelters